

What is a green loan? The Green Loans program is an Australian Government initiative where they fund an assessor to come to your house and do a free home sustainability assessment and report. Based on these results you can borrow up to $10,000, interest free, to fund some of these recommendations.

Who's eligible? You must first have a home assessment carried out by a qualified assessor. You must also have lived in the house for more than a year, and your taxable income must be under $250,000 p.a.

What are the conditions of the loan? You have to meet all the credit criteria that a bank would usually require, a list of the financial institutions offering the loan is available here - <http://www.environment.gov.au/greenloans/households/loans.html>. The interest free term is for four years

Can the Green Loan be used in conjunction with other Government rebates? Yes. Eligibility for the loan subsidy is not affected by other available subsidies and incentives for the same items or actions

What sort of things can the Green Loan be used for? Anything that is related to what is required in your house to make it more energy and water efficient, they include:

- Solar Power
- Solar Hot-water
- Replace old fridges
- Pelmets on curtains
- Insulation, etc

Which financial institutions are offering the loan? Many financial institutions are now offering green loans to their customers. For a complete list of financial institutions in Australia offering green loans for the purchase of solar energy systems please visit <http://www.environment.gov.au/greenloans/households/loans.html> or call 1800 895 076.

Do I have to get an assessment to get the loan? Yes it's part of the program. The loan exists to support the Household in adopting the recommendations outlined in the Assessment Report. Only those recommended actions from the report will be covered by the loan.

How do I arrange a Green Loans assessment? Renewablelogic has partnered with a Green Loans assessor to offer free sustainability assessments throughout much of the Perth metropolitan area.
